Schools to Ask Increased Bonds

Board Requests Estimate

$2,000,000 Fund Nearly All Gone

A bond issue proposal to assure completion of Mansfield's elementary school building needs was virtually certain today to go on the November ballot.

The Mansfield city board of education last night authorized the hiring of architects to prepare cost estimates on additional building needs, for guidance in ascertaining the amount to be asked.

Board members had no idea what sum the bond issue proposal would call for, pointing out that the architects would be asked to have the answer for the next board meeting, Aug. 12.

At that time, members said they expected to authorize the placing of a bond issue proposal on the ballot.

The board also accepted a resurvey of school needs for Mansfield, just completed by the Bureau of Educational Research of Ohio State university.

MADE '44 SURVEY

That group made the first survey in 1944 on which the present building program was based.

Board Member Harold Bruce pointed out that at present the school board has only about $500,000 left from the $2,111,000 voted for school building needs in November, 1945.

Bruce said the building need was urgent as Mansfield is "in the midst of a rapid period of growth." He said the program was necessary to take care of a maximum enrollment due within the next few years.

Pointing out that building costs have continued to rise, President Harold Arlin said that it was "impossible to wait for prices to come down." Present facilities are inadequate.

Principal recommendation in the Ohio State bureau's re-survey was a proposal for a new 13-room school in the area west of Marion avenue and south of Maple street.

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

This was an alteration of a recommendation in the 1944 survey, which said that if many new homes were built in the area south and west of Maple lake, then a school should be built near Trimble road and Highland avenue.

Other recommendations of the re-survey:

Construction of a new building to replace the Brinkerhoff and Carpenter schools be deferred until other school centers are established or present buildings enlarged.

That the new Prospect building have 13 classrooms instead of 10 because of additional residences in the area.

That seven instead of two classrooms be added to the Woodland school.

The re-survey points out that the board is building a 17-room

Meyers Hits Damage Claim

NEW YORK — (UP) — Bennett E. Meyers, former Army Air Force procurement officer, sought dismissal today of a $250,000 damage suit brought against him by the ex-secretary he once described as his mistress.

In a petition filed in Brooklyn federal court, Meyers said "the complaint failed to state a claim against the defendant upon which relief can be granted."

Mrs. Mildred Lamarre, Meyers' ex-secretary, claimed in her suit that the dapper former major general used "false and defamatory words" to injure her reputation. She said that she is "still a chaste woman, true and faithful to her husband and to her marriage vows."

Truck Tips, Fruits Mix; Traffic Jam!

WAUKEGAN, Ill. — (AP) — Want a new recipe for traffic jam?

Take: 300 cases of red raspberries; 25 cases of black raspberries; 15 cases of currants; 50 cases of dewberries and 25 bushels of apples.

Mix well and press with a ton and half truck.

That's what Wayne Hellenga of Three Oaks, Mich., did last night. His truck, loaded with the juicy ingredients overturned on highway 41 north of here. There was plenty of traffic jam. Hellenga was not hurt.

Communists Seek French Premiership

Budget Dispute Topples Cabinet

PARIS —(AP)— Communists proposed today that their leader, Maurice Thorez, be designated the new French premier to head a coalition government of Socialists and Communists.

Thorez was the first majority party leader to call on President Vincent Auriol, who is searching for a new premier. France's middle-of-the-road government, headed by Robert Schuman, toppled last night after a dispute over the Army's budget.

There was no immediate prospect of Thorez being invited to share in the government. He called on Auriol first because the communist party has the largest representation in the national assembly. They and affiliated groups have 186 out of 618 deputies. They were not represented in the last cabinet.

Following Thorez was Andre Colin, secretary general of the Popular Republican (MRP) group with 153 members in the assembly. Schuman is a member of the MRP, and many believe he will be called upon to form a new cabinet.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, also a popular Republican, was hurrying back to Paris from Hague, where he attended the meeting of the five-power western European union.

Socialists also called upon Auriol. They have 103 members in the assembly, and, like the MRP, were represented in the Schuman cabinet. Guy Mollet, Charles Lussy and Alex Roubert made up the Socialist delegation.

The fall of Schuman's government opened the door to a possible headon clash between the communists and Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Rally of the French People.

Lone Sentry Guards Grave Of Pershing

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A sentry kept lonely vigil today over the Arlington grave of General of the Armies John J. Pershing.

Until sundown Thursday night a single guard will watch the spot where the 87-year-old leader of American forces in France in World War I was buried yesterday.

By custom, a guard is maintained for 72 hours over the graves of famous men buried in the National cemetery. For the next 30 days, flags will fly at half-staff at all army posts.

The stirring tribute that the military gave the general was matched by the unplanned, spontaneous farewell from the public. More than 300,000 men, women and children stood through a beating Washington rainstorm to see the long cortege and the caisson with its flag-draped casket roll by.

Upwards of 3,500 coldiers, sailors, marines and airmen marched the four-mile route from the capitol to Arlington—and marching with them were a dozen generals.

'LET US GO'—As frisky as any single-born calf, these triplet purebred Holstein are attracting attention at the farm home of Robert Kochheiser, near Bellville. Born last Friday, the three are out of Ormsley Toitilia by Rag-Apple, registered Holstein cattle bought in Canada by Kochheiser's partner, George Brooks, former Bellville meat dealer. They weighed 45, 45 and 50 pounds, respectively, at birth. Mrs. Brooks, the former Irene Mull of Mansfield, became endeared to the triplets. "They're the prettiest things," she said, and her verdict was echoed by Kochheiser's nieces, Joanne Oyster (left) and Donna Oyster. Another cow in the herd of 70 cattle Brooks bought in Canada dropped twins earlier last week.—(News-Journal photo by Glenn Prosser)

Stocks Halt Price Plunge

Wall Streeters Await Rebound

NEW YORK —(INS)— The stock market displayed a much improved tone today after its three-day headlong plunge, and selected issues advanced as much as $1 a share in early dealings.

Bargain-hunters were in abundance at the opening gong.

Here and there a few laggards were noted, although only small fractional losses were chalked up.

Wall street generally was anticipating a rebound after the three straight sessions of acute weakness which had forced the Dow-Jones Industrial averages down nearly $10 a share and the rails off about $5 1-2 a share.

Yesterday's break of nearly $5 a share in the industrial averages was the widest in this index since April 14, 1947. The sell-off of more than $2 1-2 in the rail index was the worst in this group since Sept. 9, 1946.

LAW DIRECTOR BACKS TAX

YOUNGSTOWN—(AP)— Youngstown's new income tax has withstood its first challenge. Law Director H. Herschel Hunt refused a demand to seek an injunction, calling the tax "legal in all respects."

Expanded Legislative Call Urged

Political Groups Put Pressure on Herbert

COLUMBUS—(INS)—The pressure began to build up today on Governor Herbert to expand his call for a special session of the legislature.

The State Civil Service Employes association was the first to get under the wire. It asked the governor to provide for a 35 per cent pay increase over and above the 40 per cent already granted in post-war raises.

The local governments can be expected to come next — and they have powerful backing among the legislators themselves.

Moreover, there is one school of thought that contends that, since Herbert has called for the elimination of the three per cent sales tax on all purchases of less than 41 cents, he has opened the entire sales tax question.

From a third source — State Rep. Fred George, Cincinnati Republican — came a request that Herbert broaden his call to relieve counties of the cost of caring for indigent hospital patients, and to increase from one to three years the residence requirements of persons applying for relief.

GOVERNOR HOLDS FIRM

The governor made it plain that he did not intend to expand his call beyond its three given objectives — the sales tax reform, an increase in old age maximum pensions from $50 to $55 a month, and deficiency appropriations to the welfare department.

Those subjects, he reiterated, will be all that are to be considered when the House and Senate are called to order at 1:30 p. m. (EST) Thursday.

The session is expected to wind up its affairs before the week is out, since the bills to be acted upon already have been drafted by the governor's advisers.

Assigns Judge

POMEROY—(INS)—Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt today assigned Judge Earl Parker of Waverly to hear the cases of eight Meigs county officials and residents charged with embezzlement from and conspiracy against the county. Judge Parker will replace Judge Edgar Ervin, who disqualified himself from the hearings, expected to be held the week of Aug. 2.

Political Pot Simmering

Truman, Dewey to Meet at Ceremony

(By Associated Press)

The non-political dedication of New York's new international airport will bring President Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey together next week for a rare campaign year meeting of presidential candidates.

Both will speak briefly during the half-hour ceremony at the Idlewild field a week from Saturday.

A White House announcement of the event said Mr. Truman's off-the-cuff speech will be one "suited to the occasion."

But that may be one of the few truces in the long political war ahead for the President and his Republican rival for the White House.

Dewey, already at work mapping his battle strategy, plans a luncheon huddle tomorrow with Harold E. Stassen, the former Minnesota governor who contested with him at the GOP convention last month.

Dewey talked last week with Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, another disappointed aspirant for the GOP nomination.

Mr. Truman, meanwhile, concentrated his activities on the special session of Congress he called for next Monday with a challenge to the Republican lawmakers to deliver on GOP platform promises.

The White House said yesterday the President will renew most of his 1947 cost-of-living program, this time in the form of a definite bill.

Any personal advice Dewey may have for Republican congressional leaders will be offered from long range, however. A spokesman for the New Yorker said Dewey has no plans to go to Washington either before or during the session.

In the Deep South, the Dixiecrat ticket of Govs. J. Strom Thurmond and Fielding L. Wright also laid campaign plans. At Columbia, S. C., Thurmond predicted he and Wright will carry "most of the southern states, if not all."

Winding up the national political convention season, Henry A. Wallace's third party supporters are moving into Philadelphia for their session opening Friday. Most interest centers on what the party's platform framers will have to say about two things: Russia and the atom bomb.

3 Mayors See It As 'Way Out'

'Muscling In' Causes Trouble

Flatly asserting that their gambling troubles stemmed directly from efforts of "big-time" outside operators to "muscle in" on their towns, three Mansfield area mayors said today they believed the only practical solution to the problem rested in state control of gambling of all kinds.

"If we are to have gambling . . . and we all know it exists . . . let's control it," they said in effect.

None flatly advocated legalized gambling but all admitted that the evil exists in their communities and that there was little their police departments could do about it, especially when it goes underground in fear of official crackdown.

OPPOSED TO GAMBLING

Everyone of the mayors who cast a friendly eye toward the legalized control of gambling was vigorous in his denunciation of the evil. All made it clear that they were against a spread of gambling, but they felt that the problem had gone so far out of control that some drastic state action was needed to bring it into the bounds of decency.

Typical of the points of view of the area mayors was that of A. P. Sonner of Crestline.

"We've got to look at this realistically," he said. "The situation exists and it's high time something corrective was instituted."

Church Asks 'Clean-up'

Mayor Gets First Letter on Gaming

The first of an expected series of letters from Mansfield churches supporting a "clean-up Mansfield" campaign was delivered to Mayor Roy W. Vaughn's office—today.

The mayor was in Lorain for a meeting of the Ohio Association of Cities and was not available for comment.

The letter from the Park Avenue Baptist church pledged the support of the church to Mayor Vaughn in "any effort made in behalf of law enforcement and civic righteousness."

"We have been disturbed recently," the letter signed by the church's pastor, Dr. W. M. Taylor said, "by the statements printed in The News-Journal relative to gambling and failure to enforce laws in our city.

"If lawlessness in any form is knowingly tolerated, our law enforcement officers are proving derelict in their duty and failing to carry out their oath of office. If these conditions exist, we appeal to you to see that they are corrected immediately.

"We fully realize," the letter continued, "that one in your position has a great deal of pressure put upon him by the underworld and those who would profit by lawlessness and immorality. Unfortunately, these people are often more active and aggressive than our better citizens.

"It is for the purpose of assuring you of our interest in keeping Mansfield the splendid city that it has been through the years and of our loyal support in upholding the laws, that we communicate with you."

Meanwhile, Sheriff Ralph Schreck of Crawford county has ordered the removal of all gambling devices in the county. And Prosecutor Leo J. Scanlon of Bucyrus, said investigations are continuing which are expected to result in the recall of the Crawford county grand jury.

Reds Bid For Favor With Food

BULLETIN

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. commander in Germany, was summoned to Washington today to report on the Berlin crisis. Clay will fly from Frankfurt tonight or tomorrow, accompanied by his political advisor, Ambassador Robert D. Murphy.

BERLIN — (AP) — With great propaganda fanfare the Russians announced today they were prepared to supply food for all Berlin including the 2,000,000 German inhabitants of the western sectors whom they have blockaded for more than a month.

They claimed they would be able to do this with 100,000 tons of bread grains imported from the Soviet Union.

An announcement by the official Soviet News bureau told western Berliners they must buy this food with Soviet-sponsored German currency which circulates here as a rival to the western-sponsored Deutschemark.

The announcement was timed to coincide with a statement by the Western Allies that they were unable because of the Russian land blockade to deliver proposed increases in food ration scales for their sectors of the city.

Thus the Soviet announcement was an attack on the Western powers. Not only did the Russians claim they could feed all Berliners but their announcement sought to discredit Western sponsored currency as worthless for the primary function of buying food.

(Morning newspaper in Moscow said the decision to supply food for Berlin was taken by the Soviet council of ministers acting on the request of the Soviet military administration in Germany.)

DISCREDIT AIR LIFT

Russian-controlled newspapers in Berlin again attempted to discredit the American-British air lift which is supplying the blockaded western sectors of the city with cargoes flown from western Germany.

Russian fighter planes have "buzzed" the British airdrome in Berlin. Western Allied officials said, however, that Soviet air tactics have not impeded the American-British aerial supply service to the city.

The Russian blockade with its attending economic paralysis, has forced the closing of nearly 1,000 of Berlin's industrial plants.

The first reaction of western Berliners of the Russian food announcement was somewhat cynical.

Sore Throat Wave Hits

An epidemic of summer colds was reported sweeping through Mansfield and Richland county today. Most of the victims are children, many of them taken suddenly ill with sore throat, fever and sometimes chills.

Yesterday eight children from the Lexington rural area were brought to General hospital. All were suffering sore throats but, after laboratory tests, physicians diagnosed their ailments as the same summer cold that had attacked hundreds of others.

One physician said some cases were accompanied by dysentery but that the disease was not serious except in the case of persons in run-down condition.

In most cases, he said, the ailment disappears as quickly as it came—in 36 hours to three days.

Sport Shirts Order of Day

To Mansfielders grumbling about another hot, sticky day, the weatherman offered little comfort today. Temperatures, rising towards the 90's, combined with high humidity to make for uncomfortable conditions.

And no relief is in sight before tomorrow night, when thunderstorms may bring slight relief to some portions of the state. Additional scattered thundershowers are forecast for the next five days.

Today's low was 67 degrees at 3:30 a. m., but by 10:30 a. m. the temperature had climbed to 81.

TOGLIATTI IMPROVING

ROME—(AP)—Palmiro Togliatti, gravely wounded by the bullets of a would-be assassin, is well enough to confer with his Communist party lieutenants in a new drive against Catholic Premier Alcide de Gasperi, the party newspaper L'Unita reported.

President Outlines Schedule

Sets Up Age Classifications

(Compiled from Wire Services)

WASHINGTON—President Truman today ordered registration for the new draft to begin Aug. 30 for men 18 through 25.

Mr. Truman listed 10 age classifications and gave these dates for registration, between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. in this country, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands:

1. Those born in 1922 after Aug. 30 will register on Monday, Aug. 30.
2. Those born in 1923 will register on Aug. 31 or Sept. 1.
3. Those born in 1924, register on Sept. 2 or Sept. 3.
4. Those born in 1925, register on Sept. 4 or Sept. 7.
5. Those born in 1926, register on Sept. 8 or Sept. 9.
6. Those born in 1927, register on Sept. 10 or Sept. 11.
7. Those born in 1928, register on Sept. 13 or Sept. 14.
8. Those born in 1929, register on Sept. 15 or Sept. 16.
9. Those born in 1930 before Sept. 19, register on Sept. 17 or Sept. 18.
10. Those born on or after Sept. 19, 1930, will register within five days after their 18th birthday.

Mr. Truman's proclamation urged all employers to give their workers sufficient time off to register on the proper day.

The registration will continue through Sept. 18. Different age groups will register on different days.

The President's proclamation called on all male citizens and residents of the United States who have passed their 18th birthday but not yet reached their 26th birthday to begin registration at 8 a. m. Aug. 30.

USES 4,000 BOARDS

Selective service officials said registration will be handled by some 4,000 local draft boards set up throughout the country under World War II precedents.

State draft officials and local boards are appointed by the governors of the 48 states, with the president's approval.

Registration places will be arranged by the local boards, and the boards will handle registration machinery in their respective areas.

Maj. Gen. Louis B. Hershey sworn in for the second time as director of selective service, will submit a set of rules and regulations to President Truman covering inductions and deferments under the law. Selective service headquarters did not know when the rules would be published by the White House.

The regulations are expected to follow the pattern laid down by Congress in the draft law. There was doubt as to what age groups in the overall 19 through 25 category eligible for induction would be called up first. Hershey indicated that the Army and the armed services committees of Congress probably favored calling up men of 25 first.

Selective service officials expected that the new draft will cause another rush to the altar so that young men will be married and can claim dependents before they are called up for induction just as they did in 1940 and 1941. The law gives the president power to defer men with dependents.

Final Day Tax Receipts Soar

Today was the last day for paying real estate taxes and the number of letters in the county treasurer's office showed it.

In addition, County Treasurer Charles C. Payne reported that more than 40 persons yesterday made use of a special box at his office, used to make payments after closing hours.

Payne said payments in letters bearing postmark until midnight today would be accepted without penalty.

"We're going to make it—as usual," he continued. By "it" he meant payment of the full $1,012,000. So far, $758,850 has been collected.

Tribe Uses 7 Pitchers In Winning

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Cleveland baseball experts, who scorned the trade which sent Pat Seerey and Al Gettel to the Chicago White Sox for Outfielder Bob Kennedy, are beginning to think that it wasn't such a bad deal after all.

Kennedy, a 27-year-old converted infielder, starred in a dual role —in the field and at bat—last night as the Indians edged the Washington Nationals, 7-6, in an 11-inning thriller before 18,035 fans in the Capital City.

KENNEDY CALLED IN

The strong-armed outfielder was called into the game in the 10th inning to replace Allie Clark as a defensive measure. With Ed Stewart on third, Mark Christian on second and only one out, Al Kozar lifted a long fly to Kennedy, who unleashed a bullet-like throw to the plate nipping Stewart, who was attempting to score after the catch.

In the Indians' half of the 11th, Dale Mitchell singled, his fourth hit of the game, and Larry Doby forced him at second. Then Kennedy again came through in a pinch and singled to left scoring Doby, who had stolen second, with what proved to be the winning run.

Cleveland took an early lead in the first inning. After Mitchell and Manager Lou Boudreau had singled, Joe Gordon parked his 18th home run of the season into the left field stands to put the Tribe ahead, 3-0.

POUNCE ON LEMON

However, the Nats immediately pounced on starter Bob Lemon in the last half of the second and scored five runs on five hits, including triples by Mickey Vernon and Forrest Thompson, the Nats' starting pitcher.

In the third inning they added another marker at the expense of Ed Klieman, who replaced Lemon. However, the Tribe tied the score in the sixth.

Boudreau started the fireworks with a walk, Gordon singled him to third and Ken Keltner sent Manager Lou home with another one-baser. With Hegan on third and one out Joe Tipton, batting for Klieman, sent a fly to left and Gil Coan's peg to the plate nipped Hegan trying to score after the catch.

5 MORE TOSSERS

From that point on the teams fought a scoreless draw, with five more Cleveland pitchers seeing action. Christopher relieved Klieman and was followed by Satchel Paige, Sam Zoldak, Steve Gromek, the eventual winner, and Gene Bearden.

In tonight's finale with the Nats, Don Black has been given the call to start, his first appearance as a starter since July 2. He will be opposed by Rae Scarborough, a righthander.

Herman Colts and Zitzer's Top Major League Card

Sons of Herman Colts and Zitzer's renew their feud in the feature game of the Hot Stove Major league tonight at Liberty park.

The Colts maintained their undefeated record last Friday by taking over Zitzer's 11-4. In Ross Frisbee and Shelly Swank, Zitzer's have the best pitching staff in the league but the former shows strains of wildness. It was this tendency which enabled Joe Miller's team to hop into a big lead last week.

In the other game, Ohio Sport Center battles Knights of Columbus at Blue Goose field. Sport Center is second in the league with three wins in four games.

Both contests begin at 6 p. m.

Exchange club went into a tie for second place in the Junior league as John Stranski turned in a one-hit 5-to-1 victory over the Eagles. In the same league, Moose lodge turned back the Elks, 19 to 9.

Three Elementary loop games were played. Bowman won over Rebecca Grubaugh, 9 to 3; Newman defeated Bushnell, 17 to 7, and St. Peter's smashed Carpenter, 19 to 8.

Officials Plan Disciplining

LONDON — (INS) — Olympic games officials planned today to impose tighter measures of discipline on visiting athletes.

Authorities in charge of the games are meeting to halt what were described as "unauthorized visits" by women athletes to the camp of the male athletes at Richmond Park.

Earlier, the officials removed some of the distractions from the men participating in the games by ordering 250 girl students to move from billets in the Richmond Park camp to hotels. The girls were spending college vacations by working as waitresses, cleaners, counter hands, and orderlies at the camp.

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Dancing Gob, the current sensation at suburban Randall park, is the only horse in the country today owning a record of 12 wins so far this season.

Citation, who had been tied with Dancing Gob until yesterday, probably will deadlock him again tomorrow at Arlington in the Dick Welles $25,000 handicap.

Marion 9 Hands G-R 2nd Defeat

Gorman-Rupp's usually tight defense blew sky-high last night as the Mansfield softball aggregation went down to its second North Central Ohio Inter-City softball league defeat at the hands of Marion Smitty's Grill at the G-R field, 4 to 2.

The five errors contributed by the Mansfield players did nothing to soothe the feelings of starting hurler Jim "Stretch" Regula. The lanky youngster allowed only three hits but walked four and hit three batsmen. He struck out seven.

Marion forced the game into extra innings with a single tally in the top of the seventh and then won in the 10th inning when Reid clouted a triple with two men on the sacks.

FINE MOUND DUEL

Regula and Fats Millisor tangled in a fine mound duel for five innings. The Grillmen broke the spell with a single run in the top of the sixth. Gorman-Rupp came back in its half of the inning to take over, 2 to 1.

The big blow was Regula's 325-foot home run with one on. The mighty blow was the longest hit at the G-R park this season.

Millisor scattered six hits to win for the invaders who hold down second place in the league with 10 victories and four defeats. Gorman-Rupp tops the standings with 11 wins and two losses.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv

Giants Catch Fire Under Lippy Leo

By CARL LUNDQUIST

NEW YORK—(UP)—For people who just can't understand how a firebrand like Leo Durocher can get along with the lazy, colorless New York Giants whom he inherited, the preliminary reports today indicated that he was doing all right.

First of all, he had them winning ball games again, with three victories in four starts since he took over the club, the latest a vicious 14 to 2 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds in which the Giants made more runs than in any game since June 6.

Second, and more important, he had them hustling. In every game played thus far, there has been shouting in the dugout with the players up on the steps instead of sitting back for between inning siestas as was their custom previously. He had them talking about baseball, about the pennant in fact, and the general lethargy of the past was gone.

STARTS ROTATION

His third step was to do something about the pitchers. There are 11 hurlers on the Giant staff, some good, some mediocre, some terrible. Right away after taking over the club from Mel Ott, he announced that he would establish a starting rotation.

He said he would use Sheldon Jones, Dave Koslo, Clint Hartung, Larry Jansen and Ray Poat as his starters, returning Jones from bullpen duty. At the same time he restored Ken Trinkle as the team's number one relief man On the others, Alex Konikowski, Clem Dreisewerd, Paul Erickson, Andy Hansen and Monte Kennedy, Durocher reserved judgment, but he indicated he would give all an equal chance.

"I think the staff shapes up as possibly a pretty good one," he said. "It should win a lot of ball games."

In yesterday's rout of the Reds, Jansen went the distance to gain his 11th victory, giving up seven hits, one of which was Hank Sauer's 26th homer, putting him in a tie with Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh for the major lead lead. Walker Cooper and Bobby Thompson each got three-run homers in the Giants' 18-hit assault on three Cincy pitchers.

What was particularly interesting was that Durocher had the usually slow-moving Giants stealing four bases. Whitey Lockman sneaked two, Bill Rigney one, and even lumbering Johnny Mize got one.

The Phils came from behind with four runs on six hits in the fifth to defeat the Cubs, 5 to 4, at Chicago. Dutch Leonard scattered 11 hits, one a homer by Andy Pafko, to win his ninth game.

FRITZ BLANKS BRAVES

The Pittsburgh Pirates gained a virtual three-way tie for second place as 41-year-old Fritz Ostermueller blanked the pace-setting Boston Braves, 1 to 0. Danny Murtaugh drove home the only run.

The Cleveland Indians, leading the American league, won over the Senators, 7 to 6, in 11 innings at Washington.

Bobby Doerr provided all the Red Sox runs as Boston downed the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1, at Boston Fred Sanford was touched for the payoff clout in the first inning and Mel Parnell held the Browns to seven hits.

A'S TAKE TWO

The Athletics took both ends of a twi-night doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox at Philadelphia, 6 to 0 and 6 to 4. They got seven-hit pitching from Dick Fowler in the first game as he gained his ninth win. Phil Marchildon also twirled a seven-hitter in the nightcap, but the A's had to come from behind with three runs in the eighth inning to win.

The Detroit at New York game in the American and Brooklyn at St. Louis in the National were rained out.

Boulevards Pushes Plan For Mission

A discussion regarding the organization of a Lutheran mission in South Boulevards, will be held Thursday night at the new mission parsonage, 603 Westview boulevard, Rev. Wray Smith, mission pastor here, said today.

At least 100 persons have been contacted through letters and telephone and personal calls.

Dr. Clyde Xander, head of the home missions for the Ohio Synod of the United Lutheran church, will explain the part the Home Missions board will play in establishing a Lutheran mission.

Mayor Harry Colbow of the South Boulevards is expected to attend.

In addition to the general discussion on the mission establishment, plans are expected to be made for the first church service, which it is hoped will be held sometime in August, Rev. Smith said.

Boulevards Pushes Plan For Mission

A discussion regarding the organization of a Lutheran mission in South Boulevards, will be held Thursday night at the new mission parsonage, 603 Westview boulevard, Rev. Wray Smith, mission pastor here, said today.

At least 100 persons have been contacted through letters and telephone and personal calls.

Dr. Clyde Xander, head of the home missions for the Ohio Synod of the United Lutheran church, will explain the part the Home Missions board will play in establishing a Lutheran mission.

Mayor Harry Colbow of the South Boulevards is expected to attend.

In addition to the general discussion on the mission establishment, plans are expected to be made for the first church service, which it is hoped will be held sometime in August, Rev. Smith said.

'Y's Little Women' Plan Amateur Hour

Tomorrow morning the "Y's Little Women," 56 girls attending the YWCA 10-day daytime camp, will take part in an amateur hour. It will be held during the regular assembly period from 9 to 10 a. m.

Mrs. James Guest, dramatic instructor, told several short stories at today's assembly.

The campers are making plans for a parents' program Friday, the last day of camp. There will be no regular morning session that day, and parents have been invited to attend a program from 2 to 4 p. m. Dramatic presentations, craft displays and singing will be featured.

Reports of the physical examinations given campers at the City Health department will be available Friday for parents who wish to see them.

Speaker Warns Parents Protection Hurts Boys

Well meaning parents who attempt to cast a protective wing over their boys frequently steer those very boys along a path of trouble, members of the Mansfield Exchange club were told yesterday.

Thomas Buchanan, public relations man for Smithville Boys' Village, asserted that boys who are protected from official punishment more than once often feel that their parents continually will guard them from discipline for delinquent acts.

"If parents, who find that their children are delinquent, would seek immediate council with juvenile judges or authorities the juvenile problem in Ohio would quickly decrease," Buchanan said.

Juvenile judges, given the opportunity to talk to pre-delinquent boys, easily could correct those boys who might later become habitual criminals.

"The 'death row' at the Ohio penitentiary at present holds 22 young men under 22 who in 90 per cent of the cases never had a chance or proper guidance," he said.

"Rev. Clarence E. Kerr, founder of Boys' Village is faced with a tremendous task in reforming delinquent boys in Ohio and the need for a home for those boys is great," he said.

"Rev. Kerr's greatest problem is not in the financial foundation of the new project but in the financial aid in maintaining the organization," he explained.

Buchanan requested residents of the state to take an interest in the juvenile delinquent problem and investigate the work and problems of Boys' Village.

Boys' Village, located on Route 5, two and one half miles east of Wooster, will hold open house Sunday. Its program will include a concert by the area Boy Scout band at 3 p. m.

Donald Ogden, Exchange club vice president, presided. Frank Berkey served as program chairman.

Gas Supply Cut Ordered

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Federal Power commission yesterday Federal Power commission has ordered a cut of 25 million cubic feet off daily natural gas deliveries to the Ohio Fuel Gas company.

The decision was made in curtailing deliveries of the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline company at Detroit. It was designed to ease a middle western gas shortage next winter as much as possible.

Panhandle had requested that it be permitted to cut its gas deliveries to Ohio Fuel Gas from 50 million cubic feet daily to 25 million. It first proposed to make the cut effective last April 16 but two days before that the commission suspended the cancellation notice until Sept. 16.

In its order, the commission agreed to cut, effective as of last April 16.

The commission ordered that 15 of the 25 million cubic feet to be supplied Ohio Fuel be delivered at its Maumee station. It said this will provide the gas required at Toledo.

Other Ohio cities getting gas from Ohio Fuel include Columbus. Dayton, Cincinnati and Mansfield.

The board approved the transfer to Roseland school of Floyd Miles, custodian at the Bushnell school. Lawrence Brown, assistant custodian at Johnny Appleseed junior high school, would be transferred to Bushnell as chief custodian at $2,770 a year, board members said.

CROP Plan Perfected

The final advance-planning meeting for the Christian Rural Overseas program, to be launched Sunday, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the common pleas room of the court house, Rev. R W. McNary, chairman of the committee, announced today.

Completed plans for the collection of grain and cash contributions throughout the county will be announced, Rev. McNary said The campaign, which starts Sunday, will continue through Aug. 1.

"The CROP plan has been accepted enthusiastically here," Rev. McNary said today. "And I understand it has been received the same way throughout Ohio. It is possible that Ohio will have two train loads of grain instead of the one originally planned."

Collected grain for Richland county will be loaded onto the Ohio train on Aug. 26. At that time, Rev. McNary said, members of the state committee will be in Mansfield to attend the ceremonies being planned for the loading event

'Control It,' Mayors Say

of Shelby came the comment: "If we're going to have gambling, we might as well control it."

The control, Mayor Louis Mansfield of Ashland, indicated should be statewide.

"Big city gamblers who come to prey on smaller communities are the basic cause of disturbances in our cities," Mansfield declared.

NON-COMMITTAL

Mt. Gilead's mayor, Ray Bennington, adopted a somewhat non-committal position. "I don't know too much about it," he said, "and I'd rather not go on record."

Galion's mayor, H. H. Hartmann, was unavailable for comment.

Galion and Crestline are in Crawford county where investigators have made accusations of a tie-up between gambling and liquor interests. Under investigation of the state liquor control office there are charges that state liquor agents have been "shaking down" permit holders for "protection."

State Liquor Enforcement Chief Don T. Geyer of Columbus, who personally visited Crawford to investigate the charges, asserted he had uncovered some evidence that the "protection" demands were made by men who fraudulently represented themselves as agents of the state liquor department.

SAYS POLICE 'DO BEST'

Mansfild's mayor, Roy W. Vaughn, as usual, insisted that the matter was one solely for police action.

"I've been quoted on this subject for six weeks now and you ought to know my views," he said, vigorously. "We've got police officials to enforce the law and I believe they are doing the job to the best of their ability."

He alone indicated the view that police were able to cope with the situation as it exists. All of the other mayors more or less frankly admitted that they knew that such gambling activities as punchboards and slot machines flourished but they were handcuffed in their efforts to bring them out from undercover.

NEED STATE HELP

But, they agreed, little could be done about it unless small communities could depend on the state for help.

One area city official pointed out that at present only the racketeers benefit from gambling. He advocated some form of legalized gambling in the belief that, try as they might, local officials have little chance to wipe it out.

Legalizing gambling, he felt, would permit authorities to keep close control over the evil, force the operators to abide by strict rules of conduct, and to a certain extent eliminate the danger of gambling falling into the hands of gangs of "strong-arm" operators who care little about who they hurt as long as their lust for money can be satisfied.

"Besides," this official said, "legalized gambling would give city, county and state treasuries some revenue for use in fighting the evil."

U. S. Frees Yugoslavian Gold Hoard

Agreement Made On Two Claims

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Marshal Tito's Yugoslav government, now engaged in a row with the Kremlin, was bolstered economically today by settlement of two long-standing disputes with the United States.

The state department announced that Yugoslavia had agreed to pay the U.S. a "lump sum" of $17,000,000 to cover:

1. Indemnities for two U.S. planes forced down in Yugoslavia 23 months ago and for a jeep that was "captured" during a postwar border incident.

2. Compensation for American-owned property seized by the Yugoslav government in its sweeping "nationalization" decrees.

In exchange, the U.S. immediately unlocked the door to Yugoslavia's $47,000,000 gold hoard in the United States. The government gold was brought here for safekeeping during the war. Despite strenuous protests, the United States had refused to return it until Yugoslavia settled the U.S. claims.

The United States also "unfroze" about $10,000,000 which belongs to private Yugoslavian citizens. But this government made it plain that it will take no steps whatsoever to help the Tito government get its hands on these private funds.

Rock Breaks Window At Tourist Home

J. C. Snoffer, operator of a tourist home on Park avenue east road, reported to sheriff's deputies last night that a rock had been thrown through a front window of his home. The rock broke both the storm window and regular window and damaged the venetian blind. The incident occurred shortly before 9 p. m.

Snouffer said he had no idea who might have thrown the rock. He said he had no difficulty with anyone.

Schools to Ask More Bonds For Buildings

West Fifth street school whereas a 21-room school was recommended.

FORMER PROPOSALS

The survey in 1944 included these recommendations:

New Brinkerhoff and Carpenter school buildings; a new 26-room school to replace the Bowman building; an addition to Hedges school. Abandonment of Bushnell school.

A new 14-room Newman school, a new Prospect school, an addition to Western school, replacement of West Fifth school by a 21-room school; an addition to Woodland, a new 12-room school near Springmill and Trimble roads, and a school near Trimble road and Highland avenue.

112 CLASSROOMS

Altogether, the original survey called for six new buildings, and substantial additions to three other buildings. When completed that would mean 112 new elementary classrooms and continued use of 22 rooms of the present setup.

Eleven of the new classrooms would replace those in use in basements. At completion, there also would be nine new auditorium-gymnasiums and nine new library rooms.

At present, the board, through the 1945 bond issue, has authorized an addition to the Western avenue school, building of the new Roseland school and the West Fifth street and Newman schools, work on which is at various stages of completion.

The re-survey said the peak enrollment in Mansfield schools would be reached in five to seven years and recommended that at least two of the schools recommended for abandonment be retained temporarily for the peak enrollment.

The survey said the January enrollment for grades one through six was 3,877 and that the 140 classrooms recommended have a capacity of 4,200.

An indication as to how building prices have soared reveals itself in that the 1944 survey estimated that the entire program could have been completed for $2,030,000. Hardly half the program can be built for that at today's prices.

$10,000 Loss In Barn Fire

MILLERSBURG — A fire of undetermined origin razed the bank barn of Clifford Snyder's farm near Kenton at 5:15 p. m. yesterday.

Fire Chief Gordon Ballon estimated the damage to the 50 by 60-foot barn in excess of $10,000.

More than 1,400 bales of hay, farm machinery and two calves were lost in the fire that burned the building to the ground.

Firemen from nearby Millersburg answered the call but the fire had already made too much headway to prevent complete destruction.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, July 21

Under the high pressure of greatly-stimulated ambition, with determination, enterprise and initiative, it is probable that there may be definite moves in the direction of long range objectives, probably in new projects, and under the heat of astutely engineered practical skills with concrete constructive energies and drives. However, there may be need to "put the brakes on," mainly because of failure of cooperation from those in influential places, whose capital and approbation are imperative. With sustained and well-organized efforts the confidence and support of higher-ups may be restored, and definite progress made.

Those whose birthday it is may plan on a year in which their own indomitable will, energy and initiative may be the means of putting over ambitions projects, with constructive talents and skills upon a profitable, enduring and long-range prospect of worthwhile achievement. This may be on new propositions, fresh fields of operation, or possibly change of techniques and methods.

A child born on this day is bounteously endowed with vigor, determination, ambition and enthusiasm for large affairs. Its misdirection in these could alienate help from important places.

Daughters of Ruth Hold Picnic Party

Twenty-three members of the Daughters of Ruth Class of St. Luke's Lutheran church met last evening for a picnic supper at North Lake park. Three guests were in attendance. Mrs. H. E. The long table was centered with a bouquet of summer flowers. The next meeting is scheduled for Sept. 20 at the home of Miss Ida Burgner and Mrs. Emma Sherer, 219 Penn avenue.

NEW SETTING FOR DIAMONDS

Newest setting for diamonds holds the stone high in heavy palladium prongs, standing away from a reflector of the same precious white metal that makes the stones seem larger and more brilliant than they really are. Craftsmen prefer palladium for settings because it holds the gems securely.

PICNIC SANDWICHES

It's high time to get in the mood for picnics. You'll want to try this for a good-tasting sandwich filling. Blend cream cheese with salt, garlic salt and Tabasco sauce to taste. Thin with a little mayonnaise and stir in chopped roasted almonds. Spread thickly between slices of pumpernickel bread.

Churchwomen Ask For More Recognition

"Shouldn't women of a household be part of it?"

This is the question church women will ask the First Assembly of the World Council of Churches, meeting in Amsterdam, Holland, Aug. 22 to Sept. 4.

The council will be composed of 1400 representatives of some 140,000,000 Christians from 42 countries. But the women say that unless they can discover more significant channels for putting their talents to work within the church, the council will fall short of its ideal, no matter how many countries and denominations are represented.

During the last two years, questionnaires were sent out by the World Council to church women in 50 countries, asking opinions and recommendations. A final report to the assembly will be shaped at a special council of 50 women church leaders meeting at Baarn, Holland, the middle of August.

Now it's the cost of railroad travel that's going up—so it appears that many people will eventually have to keep their trips within walking distance.

One observer comments: "No town is so small that it fails to provide someone at the filling station ready, willing and able to give a traveler wrong directions to wherever he is trying to drive."

One Sure Way to Bring Prices Down

IT MAY seem strange for meat dealers and grocers to urge customers to do less buying of foodstuffs at present exorbitant prices, but that is being done in a number of cities, and the National Association of Retail Grocers says there is one sure way of beating high food prices—"stop paying them."

A News-Journal reader suggests local application of this policy and the idea is good, but it would require more of a co-operative effort on the part of a larger percentage of people in this community than seems likely at the moment.

There is apparently a considerable number of people who do not let high prices interfere with liberal buying of luxury foods, including choice cuts of meat, and it is this inclination that tends to hold prices at high levels.

A noteworthy observation among meat dealers is that what is known as their "wealthier class of trade" is holding purchases to a minimum of needs while customers who have suddenly come into possession of more money than they know what to do with are handing out five, ten and twenty dollar bills with reckless abandon.

Having vivid recollection of the buildup of a fictitious "prosperity" preceding the 1929 start of a period of depression, unemployment and hardship for millions of people, the conclusion can scarcely be escaped that the present trend is toward repetition of that disastrous national experience.

In the absence of a modern Paul Revere to carry the message of danger, it would seem that chosen representatives of the American people should display sufficient common sense to recognize the hazards of the present course and head off inflation before it makes further headway toward impending catastrophe.

When Officials Sidestep Their Duties

OFFICIALS who are negligent in enforcing anti-gambling laws ordinarily seem to be more inclined to listen to spokesmen for gambling interests than to those who speak for law enforcement—and it is not unusual for such officials to regard remonstrances by ministers and church groups as "butting-in" on something that is "none of their business."

It is interesting to note, however, that in addition to a number of Mansfield ministers who have spoken on the subject of a return of open gambling to this city, there is appearance of intent to impress Mayor Vaughn with an idea that, as chief executive of Mansfield, he is the one upon whom responsibility for law enforcement finally rests and that he has been hired to ENFORCE laws, not to choose between the ones he likes and those he dislikes.

As employes of taxpayers of the city of Mansfield, it appears reasonable that the people who pay the salaries of Mayor Vaughn and Chief of Police Schwab be given a clear, frank statement of facts regarding just how the ban came to be placed on illegal gambling in this city last January 31 and why it was lifted two months later. Thus far Chief Schwab has adopted a "no comment" attitude and Mayor Vaughn had ducked responsibility—which results in what may be an entirely unjustified suspicion of submission to some "higher power" as the actual dictator of administration policies.

Search For Bomb Thrower Will Go On

WHILE two weeks have passed since the bomb explosion in the rear of a South Park street cafe, without indication of progress toward solution of the mystery surrounding identity of the man who was seen to place the bomb and hurry away from the scene, it's a safe guess that this will not be permitted to pass quickly into the list of unsolved crimes.

It will be recalled that two Mansfield police officers and two firemen were injured by this bomb explosion, and it is a tradition among police officers that a criminal who kills or injures one or more of their associates is to be hunted down and punished, regardless of how long it takes.

It is unfortunate that this bombing was regarded so lightly by Richland county commissioners that they appear to have not even seriously considered offering a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the bomb-planter, as it cannot be doubted that others know his identity and that a suitable reward might be instrumental in producing a more tangible clue than has yet been found.

There is a possibility, too, that an outside investigator, trained in crime detection, might unearth some clues that have been overlooked by local police officers, despite the earnestness of their efforts.

Those Long Summer Vacations

LONG summer school vacations are a waste, says John W. Studebaker, recently resigned United States commissioner of education. But he would have pupils and teachers spend the summer at camps, not continue the same old grind in the same old buildings.

The long school vacation may date back to the time when the bulk of the population was rural, and the children were needed to work on the farm. It may also be due to a desire to make the teaching profession more attractive.

Readers Forum

Commended By Church Group

Mansfield News-Journal,
Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned, were requested Sunday by the Adult Department of the Park Avenue Baptist church school to commend you for calling the attention of our law enforcement officers and our citizens to the fact that gambling places are operating in our city. We feel that you have thus rendered a distinctive service to our community.

Mansfield is known far and wide as an outstanding city—a city of diversified industries, fine homes, good schools, and splendid churches. Along with these excellent institutions there must also be good citizenship, sobriety, and a high regard for the enforcement of laws. By your splendid editorials and the publishing of facts regarding open violation of laws, you have helped to create a strong public opinion in favor of law enforcement.

We trust that you will continue to serve the community in this way.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Housing Legislation Ready For Action

THERE are two ways to look at this mid-summer night's dream session of Congress. One is the view of a practical politician — Democrat or Republican — who attempts to assess political values and dangers. The other is that of a detached citizen who cares only for a rational solution of the problems that confont his country.

On the political side, Truman's call is a desperate gamble. The President, despite his cocky demeanor, must know that his chance to win is slim.

But as President he has great powers which may be used to further political ends. There is no point in complaining about a President's using such powers. Most Presidents have used them to a greater or lesser degree in the past.

So we can imagine that the President and his advisers thought over the powers at hand in this grave political emergency. He could make non-political trips and let the treasury pick up the checks. But he has already done that, and the device was not very successful.

He could call out the Army. But that might not be a good way to suppress Dewey or subjugate the South. He could start a war. But as a man who has seen the horrors of war he could hardly do that. Finally, he could call Congress in special session and harangue it about the state of the union. That, apparently, appealed to him and so he has tried it.

As he pointed out in his speech of acceptance, there are several things that Congress could do, such as to pass his civil rights program, enact a housing bill, do something about inflation and attend to several miscellaneous items. All these the President said, no doubt suppressing a smile, could be carried through in 15 days.

* * *

Each Can Blame Other.

REPUBLICAN political strategy in such a special session might well be to introduce the whole Truman civil rights program. That program is a long one. There would be several complicated and lengthy bills. It is inconceivable that a start could be made on even one of these in 15 days.

Even with closure measures in the Senate, the South could delay matters for a week or two. If Truman were so disposed, he could, after Congress adjourned without enacting a civil rights program, accuse the Republicans of bad faith in advocating civil rights in their platform. That would be pretty flimsy stuff, but some votes could no doubt be changed.

On inflation the administration has a slight advantage. It can, without any effective defense by Congress, create inflation in many ways. The fact is that it is creating inflation every day and is blaming Congress for it. It is hard to see how Congress can, without repudiating its past record, pass the kind of anti-inflation measures that the President has asked for.

On housing, the problem is simple for the Republicans. Taft has a very good housing bill all ready. It could be passed in 48 hours if the two houses were favorable.

The battle in Congress during this short session would therefore be inconclusive. Both sides would go on in September with their oratory. Both would claim credit for housing legislation. Both would deny blame for the failure of civil rights. Both would be blamed for inflation.

The South would still be off the reservation. The North would be drifting toward the Republican party. And the taxpayers would be paying for the session.

All this involves a consideration of political strategy alone. But how does it look to the detached citizen? He sees the whole thing as a political trick. He will, of course, be glad to see a housing bill passed. He will be confused about inflation.

But if he is a thoughtful man, he will be profoundly distressed to see as delicate and complicated a question as civil rights thrown once more into an angry and futile legislative brawl. That can help no one but fanatics, fools and those who live on racial and religious prejudice.

Viewing the National Scene

When Congress Returns

By THOMAS L. STOKES

AS WELL as putting Republicans on the spot by calling Congress into special session a few days hence, President Truman aimed also at certain results within his own party.

This bold stroke has these other designs:

1. To unite along the battle front of Congress in Washington during the campaign the labor and liberal leadership which was hesitant, where not actually reluctant, to go along enthusiastically and wholeheartedly for his renomination.

They must get into this fight, shoulder to shoulder with President Truman, because he has sounded the call for a fight for measures which are demanded by their rank and file. It will force them, of necessity, to his side.

2. To reveal, so that all may see, that it is from the same southerners who so restricted his nomination that Republicans continually draw allies in Congress to check-mate the Truman program as they did the Roosevelt program before. Behind the convenient cover of civil rights hide great economic and financial interests.

They continually use the civil rights, state rights issue to check progressive measures. They work through their agents in Congress who are creatures of the rotten borough political system in the South. This system is perpetuated by the very lack of civil rights which the President has asked so that the franchise may be spread broadly to the people of the South, white and black, by abolishing poll taxes, white primary subterfuges and other discriminations.

* * *

South Is Also Divided.

CONVERSELY, the drawing of issues in a special session of Congress will throw in bold relief those Democrats in Congress from the South who have progressive inclinations on economic and social welfare measures so that the people of the South can separate these from the state rights bitter-enders.

That will be healthful and will point to the avenue through which southern progressivism can slowly build itself into a potent force. The President is keenly aware of this difference in the South and was talking over the heads of the bolting southern conservative leaders to the people in his acceptance speech.

His appeal for a united party was a refreshing contrast to the shabby performance some time before when the Mississippi delegation and half of the Alabama delegation walked out of the convention in protest over the civil rights program. Few seemed sorry to see them go. Their departure served to cleanse the atmosphere.

Republicans, by their omissions in the 80th Congress, permitted President Truman to choose the battlefield for this campaign, which is the Republican Congress, and there is always some strategical advantage in that.

They left themselves wide open when they came here at their convention and blithely promised in their platform to do certain things that they had refused to do in Congress on the eve of the convention, so that the contrast was most dramatic by this unfortunate timing. The President capitalized this effectively in his straight-from-the-shoulder housing talk to the convention.

By his insistence on his nomination and by his bold speech to the convention at its end, the President revealed himself as a scrapper. He lifted the pall of defeatism and gave notice that he will challenge the Republicans every step of the way between now and the November election.

MacArthur's Way of Handling Russians

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—General MacArthur has his own special system of dealing with the Russians. One incident contrasts with the recent arrest of Marshal Sokolovsky in Berlin by American military police for speeding, and the subsequent official apology to him despite the fact that he was clearly guilty of violating the law.

Meanwhile in Tokyo the top Russian general, Colonel General Galensky, was arrested by American military police outside of Tokyo for failing to have a pass.

After his arrest, Galensky came storming into the office of Joseph B. Keenan, chief war crimes prosecutor, demanded an apology. Keenan took the request to MacArthur.

"Did he have a pass?" asked MacArthur.

"No."

"Can you go outside Tokyo without a pass?" MacArthur asked Keenan. "Can I go outside Tokyo, can any American officer or enlisted man travel outside Tokyo without a pass?

"Tell the Colonel General," concluded MacArthur, "that he gets exactly the same treatment given to you and me. He gets no apology."

Keenan conveyed this message verbatim to Galensky at his home. The Russian colonel general listened carefully to MacArthur's words as relayed by Keenan, finally said:

"What a man! Let's have tea."

Displaced Persons.

SENATE Democratic leaders say that one of the first moves at the special session of Congress will be to revamp the Displaced Persons Act. Many Republicans agree, are angry at the anti-Catholic, anti-Semitic restrictions.

The Senate accepted the bill in its present form, because it came up so late that to have fought for corrective amendments would have meant no displaced-persons legislation at all.

The bill is the handiwork of West Virginia's Republican Senator Chapman Revercomb, and the methods he used to foist it upon his fellow senators are some of the most shameful in the history of the 80th Congress. Soon after he was assigned to head a judiciary subcommittee to study the problem, Revercomb bluntly told colleagues: "We could solve this DP problem all right if we could work out some bill that would keep out the Jews."

That is exactly what he did. By legalistic sleight-of-hand, he put through a bill admitting 200,000 of Hitler's victims to this country—but on Hitler's terms. Those who entered Germany after December 22, 1945, cannot be admitted. It so happens that most of the Jews, now in refugee camps, fled into Germany from the Polish pogroms—after the December 22, 1945, deadline.

Revercomb's bill also assigns 50 per cent of the displaced persons quota to the Baltic states for no valid reason, except that these states are predominantly Protestant. What's more, the bill requires that 50 per cent of those who come to this country must be farmers—in spite of petitions from employers and labor groups, asking for trained garment workers to fill the shortage in that field. Few Jews are farmers, many are garment workers.

Two months ago Undersecretary of State Robert Lovett wrote Senator Revercomb asking him to move up the eligibility date from 1945 to 1947.

Revercomb kept the letter secret from his own committee until his West Virginia colleague, Democratic Senator Harley Kilgore, found out about it several weeks later.

"The state department recommendation," snorted Revercomb, in reply to Kilgore's protest, "was made by the Jews. The department is full of them."

Later, while the Senate-House conferees were debating differences in the bill, U. S. Ambassador to Britain Lewis Douglas sent an urgent cable to the state department, warning that Europe regarded Revercomb's bill as grossly anti-Semitic and anti-Catholic. He requested that his views be communicated to congressional leaders.

The state department promptly got in touch with Senator Alexander Smith, New Jersey Republican, who urged Revercomb to present Ambassador Douglas's views to the Senate-House conferees. Afterward, Smith asked Revercomb whether he had done it.

"I did not," growled the West Virginia Republican. "I didn't want to raise any racial or religious issues in the conference."

Veterans Housing.

CONGRESSMAN Albert Thomas, Texas Democrat, who has a fine record on most matters, did his best before Congress closed to hamstring the housing expediter's authority to investigate veterans' housing.

First he tried to block an appropriations bill, granting extra funds to the housing expediter to expand his investigating staff. When that failed, Thomas suggested that all housing functions relating to veterans should be transferred to the Veterans' Administration.

What the Texas congressman didn't mention in his battle against the housing expediter was that one of his own close friends, Frank Sharp of Houston, a home builder, is under investigation on charges of defrauding veterans. The investigation has been pressed, of course, by the housing expediter.

When a newsman called to get Thomas's side of the story, the congressman growled: "You'd better be careful what you print about Sharp!"

Assignment: America

Those Who Stand Guard

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — From death until burial, General of the Armies John J. Pershing lay with the tribute and protection of an honor guard consisting of a lieutenant and four men—a guard changed regularly and maintained on a 24-hour basis.

And in this, as in many events throughout his colorful military life, he shared something with the soldiers who had fallen before him.

For the men making up the guard were soldiers of the ceremonial detail—the same highly-disciplined troops who give burial with full military honors to the soldiers now being brought home from overseas to lie in Arlington national cemetery beside other heroes of all the nation's wars.

"Sometimes we have more than six burial ceremonies a day," said one of the soldiers who had just come off guard duty at the Capitol where the General lay in state Sunday and Monday. "But those are individual ones. Now and then we have mass burials, with the full ceremony for perhaps twenty at a time. . . ."

But the boys admitted the guard duty they'd been standing around the catafalque on which lay famed Black Jack Pershing was tougher than most—not that they were complaining, however. Just commenting.

Throughout the two days in which the public passed the Capitol rotunda to view the General, the men of the ceremonial detail were quartered down below, among the pillars just beneath the rotunda spot on which the black-draped casket stood.

The cots and casual postures of the half-clad soldiers looked strangely out of place there around the statue of three famous women. Looking down on the off-duty honor guard were Lucretia Mott, Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, and it seemed the ladies' stone faces were even more stern and grim than usual.

But the boys didn't mind. They were busy catching some rest when they could—and they needed it. Two of their squad had collapsed on duty upstairs during the long ordeal, for there's nothing soft about standing at alternate attention and parade rest for an hour at a time. It cramps the muscles of arms and legs, often stops the circulation in ankles and feet, not to mention the countless little itches and tickles which develop into torturing torments.

* * *

Helped By Experience.

DOWN below, Sergeant George Osborn of Wales, Ky., six-year man and an infantry veteran of the 102nd Division who saw action all along the line from Holland to the Elbe, was trying to show the boys how to take the guard stint in easier stride.

"Remember when you're at attention," he said, "not to try to grab the rifle too tightly. Then your hand isn't so likely to cramp. But mostly watch your legs. With these pants on, you can shift easily from one leg to the other from time to time without it ever showing. Just ease the weight onto one leg, and let the other knee buckle just a little bit. It won't show if you do it right. Then, after a while, straighten it out and buckle the other knee a little. It will keep the tendons in the back of your legs from cramping and tying up the nerves and blood vessels."

He demonstrated what he meant. There was no perceptible movement of his pants-leg, yet unquestionably he was shifting his weight.

"And keep wiggling your toes inside your shoes," he cautioned. "That won't show, and it will keep the blood circulating in your feet. Otherwise they'll go to sleep on you."

Over near one cot, Pfc. Ralph Kerstein of New York City, who has only seen seven months service kept practicing as the sergeant talked. So did several others, while a few who were due to go on duty again soon stayed on their cots, resting while they listened and watched.

Persistently but not impatiently, Sgt. Osborne kept at them. Later he admitted that "some of the trouble" was because the boys were so new. "Old-timers would know how to adjust themselves to it, but a lot of these kid haven't learned yet."

Dave Boone Says:

YESTERDAY they put in his last resting place a great American—Gen. John J. Pershing. Here was a man who had fought for his country in Cuba, in Mexico, in the Philippines and in Europe, figuring in the picture from the horseback wars against the Apache Indians to the era of atomic bombs.

* * *

He was an American first, last and always. You could never imagine him leering at the traditions of America, defying the government or refusing to give a straight answer to any question about where he stood.

* * *

You got a "Yes" or "No" from Black Jack without any demand from him that he read a long statement first.

* * *

When Pershing was a comparatively young soldier his wife and whole family—except one son, Warren—were burned to death in a fire at the Presidio, San Francisco, but sorrow couldn't break his spirit. Nor anything else. He was reported fatally ill more than ten yeas ago. Even death knew it had been in a fight before it licked Jack Pershing.

Farmer's Diary

Down, But Not Out

By CALVIN A. BYERS

OVER and over it has worked out that a plot of ground has been instrumental in rebuilding a man's life and character.

When I was a boy, a man who attended our church burned his own barn and was convicted of arson. Singing in the quartet at the penitentiary, for he had a melodious voice, he became acquainted with an ex-banker who had forged some papers. The two friends decided to pool their talents, when their prison terms expired, and to buy a farm where they would grow vegetables for a city market.

The arson man had had experience in farming, the ex-banker thought he could sell produce and keep the books. The spring that their prison terms expired—they were there two years and five respectively—both men took their families to a rented farm, which they had leased for three years, with right of purchase afterward.

There they worked—and sang. In the rural church, their trained voices were considerable help to the young minister, who had gumption enough to use whatever talents the Lord placed at his disposal. Pretty soon all three—the ex-convicts and the minister—were studying farming avidly in their spare time.

They made a living from the start—hard work, long hours, at first. Considerable praying, too, no doubt. But no farmers ever were more appreciative of the freedom of the fields, the help of the U. S. department of agriculture bulletins, or the fact that people everywhere were eager to buy freshly grown produce right from the field.

They started with a pushcart, then took over a market stall. Their women helped with the selling. Pretty soon the ex-banker was hauling in eggs from around the country to sell with the other produce grown on their farm. They continued to sing as they worked, and to replenish their soil by returning to it every bit of waste. Several hatcheries gave them poultry manure, for the hauling.

The story isn't ended yet. They're still prospering, so far as I know, and both men have grown children by this time. Nobody ever recalls the mistakes they made, except perhaps themselves. They remained, the last I heard, substantial farmers and good friends after many years of association in business. Their modest homes are side by side, modern and comfortable. The land they farm is a picture of thrifty farming. It produces better now than it used to, at first.

I had often wondered what became of the young minister who befriended them. Somebody said to me the other day that he's now a bishop. Hm!

Blow-Up Among Democrats Was Something That 'Had To Be'

NEW YORK—In one final, thundering, dazzling blast of humbug, hypocrisy and confusion, the Democrats blew up their convention and went along home reasonably proud of a job well done. This explosion had to be and they made it a good one.

None among them had entertained the slightest doubt all week that the gravy train was in the ditch at last, Therefore, there remained no reason to continue the pretense that the true Democrats of the Deep South had anything in common with Eleanor the Great and the "minority" racketeers, the union gauleiters and the Curleys and Kellys and Farleys of the north.

As long back as the fourth term convention of 1944 in Chicago, when their late mahatma deigned to accept the nomination without a word of thanks to the prideless mob in the hall, it had been noted that here was an aggregation of mutually hateful elements held together nevertheless by the gall and guile of a faker. So the obvious next order of business was an open confession of opinion by all these fretful inmates of the crazy house.

The southern Democrat is less aloof toward Negroes than the late Roosevelt himself was all his life, but he is more honest in all his statements of policy on the subject. Only 75 years ago, within the life of his grandfather, the southern white man was jim crowed by an illiterate, undisciplined horde of freedmen who were stimulated to overbearing conduct by unscrupulous whites. These carpetbaggers were the true political and moral fathers of the left-wing northern New Dealers of today. The southern white man was cowed with guns, driven from the polls while the Negroes were encouraged to vote away his last trifles of liberty and property. Finally, he was forced to organized the Ku Klux Klan.

His policy is that he will never let that happen again. He has never been persuaded by any of the vague assurances of the northern white Democrats, who rarely took the trouble to try to persuade him, anyway. On the contrary, most of them have grimly indicated that another spell of humbling would serve them right.

The Roosevelt party contained this enmity in a mutually helpful and powerful household for all his 12 years and for about two of Harry Truman's years, besides.

Not only that, but Brooklyn Catholic and Brooklyn communist, there being many of both in Brooklyn, walked in the same parades and pulled the same levers on "JA!" day. And some of the most intolerant bigots in the notably hysterical story of American popular causes and lunacies took to the bench in the federal courts to preach the official text of liberal doctrine.

Notorious among them but by no means the worst, Hugo Black, now often called the wisest guide to a realm of beautiful reason, got his first preferment in Alabama in a case exalting homicidal bigotry toward Catholic and Negro.

★

The Democratic party under Roosevelt forbade price-cutting, under criminal penalties, as a violation of the national recovery act, which Maurice Tobin, the governor of Massachusetts, extolled on closing night. In another phase of the same dispensation, citizens were sent to jail for raising prices. Employers were pilloried for greed in paying niggardly wages and threatened with jail for raising the wages of individuals on the ground that such raises were intended to persuade them that unions were not necessary to their progress.

The southern states, which had almost no mob violence, were threatened with an anti-lynching law by this convention in a resolution pushed through by states where union mobs run wild.

In the final end of it, Jimmy Roosevelt, a parasite on the party and his father's position for fifteen years and part of that time a front for an old-time prohibition mob at $5,000 a month bobbed up as the leader of the opposition to the one man his father selected to carry on. And Hague and Kelley and O'Dwyer, of New York, Catholics all and stalwarts of reaction, by a marvel possible only to Democrats in the most advanced stages, were found on the side of Justice William O. Douglas, who is somewhat to the left of Henry Wallace, the candidate of Josef Stalin.

It was time to turn it off Another hour and they would have nominated Tom Dewey.

Wilkinson Estate Set At $196,720

Widow Leaves Bulk To Stepchildren

Mrs. Laura A. Wilkinson left an estate valued at $196,720, an inventory filed in Probate court today disclosed. Mrs. Wilkinson, widow of Arthur L. Wilkinson, an Ohio Brass company official, died May 27.

Her will stipulated than $2,000 of the estate go to her sister, Mrs. Helen A. Bauserman of Toledo.

Forty per cent of the balance was bequeathed to a stepson, Arthur L. Wilkinson jr.; 20 per cent to Mrs. Dorothy Jelliffe of Los Angeles, a step-daughter, and 20 per cent to Leslie A. Wilkinson, a step-grandson. The Wilkinsons live in Hamilton, Wash.

Personal property, including a car and jewelry, was appraised at $7,004. A real estate property at 398 West Third street was valued at $25,000, and stocks and bonds at $48,245.

Among larger stock holdings were 30 shares of Allied Chemical and Dye corporation, valued at $5,910; 60 of American Tobacco company, $3,555; 1,075 of Ohio Brass company "A" stock, $47,971, and 127 "B," $5,921; 71 shares of Proctor & Gamble, $4,863; 100 of Sterling Drug company, $3,675; 50 of Union Oil company of California, $4,750.

Holdings of municipal, company and U. S. bonds were valued at $28,231.

The Farmers Savings and Trust company is the executor of the estate. The estate was appraised by Jack Balliett, Charles W. Jelliff and John S. Jones. The will was dated Dec. 3, 1947.

ARMY ENLISTS 17—The enlistment of 17 young men into service yesterday at the Mansfield U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station offered memories of war time draft groups. Fifteen of the youths will report to San Antonio, Tex. They are Roy Hinklin, Mansfield R. D. 6; Clarence Turner, Kenneth Miller, Karl Parsell, William Tsumpes, Richard Waters, John Garrison, Paul Bigley, William McCaulley, James Fogle, Clifford Bentley, Richard McLain and Hugo Malo, Marion; Glenn Sutter, Shelby, and Dessel Wheeler, Centerburg. Two others will report to U. S. Army ground forces at Fort Dix, New Jersey. They are Walter Markwell, Shauk, and James Nolder, Crestline. "The 17 enlistments almost brought the Mansfield recruiting station to 100 per cent of its quota," said Capt. Robert L. Pine, recruiting officer. "We expect to be well over the July quota by the end of the week."

Murderer Gets Parole

Alonzo Mitchell, alias Lawrence Mitchell, who was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary Jan. 16, 1928, for the slaying of a Mansfield woman, today was granted a parole by the State Pardon and Parole commission.

The parole is effective Aug. 26. He is presently at the London Prison farm.

Mitchell, 55, a former Willard railroad section hand, was convicted of the slaying of his sweetheart, Mrs. Amy Reynolds, by a Richland county common pleas court jury.

Mitchell was sentenced for first degree murder, but on April 12 of this year, Gov. Thomas J. Herbert commuted the sentence to second degree murder, opening the way for a parole.

Mrs. Reynolds was found strangled in her home on Long John avenue Aug. 29, 1927.

A record million and a half dollar budget for Mansfield schools in 1949 was approved last night without change by the city board of education. The budget will now go to the county budget committee for final approval

Three Named to Plan Junior Fair Program

A committee to provide entertainment for the Richland County Junior fair was appointed at a meeting of the Richland County Agricultural society last night.

Floyd Mowrey will head the committee, assisted by Mrs. Jane Williams and A. C. Weiser. The three will work with Junior fair officers in planning the program.

Members voted a $300 entertainment fund.

On Saturday, Aug. 14, members will meet at the fairgrounds for a final clean up before the fair opens Aug. 20.

Clarence Tugend, chairman of the committee in charge of concrete work and general repairs, reported that floors had been poured and would be completed in time for the fair.

In the absence of Herman Wolf, chairman of the committee in charge of painting buildings, Charles Oberlin, committee member, reported that all painting at the fairgrounds except the interior of the school building had been completed.

C. S. Henry, chairman of the committee in charge of plumbing, reported that all work was progressing satisfactorily.

All electrical work has been taken care of and arrangements made to install four flood lights, Orville Kibler, secretary, told the group.

Lewis Rinehart, chairman, commended the work of 4-H clubs. He pointed out that the Junior fair gave young people an opportunity to exhibit educational and character-developing projects.

85 to Attend 4-H Camp

Richland county 4-H club members — 85 of them, including their counselors — Monday will go to 4-H camp for a week.

They will go to Camp Conger, near North Fairfield, in Huron county. County Agent George B. Ganyard and Miss Mabel Spray, home demonstration agent, will be in charge.

Annually, the camp is open for a week's period to boys and girls of 4-H clubs in Richland county.

Included in the week's activities, Miss Spray said, are crafts, swimming, camp fire programs, vespers, phases of 4-H club work and recreation.

Among the counselors going are Max McFarland, Byron Bricker, Ruth and Eleanor Brook, Gwen Cook, Joan Russell and Ruth Swisher.

Egyptian Mob Kills Tourist

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An American citizen was stoned to death by an Egyptian mob in Cairo last Sunday, the state department announced late yesterday.

Stephen Haas, 53, a Philadelphia real estate man, was set upon while visiting the city as a tourist with his wife, Press Officer Lincoln White said. The U. S. embassy in Cairo reported several Egyptian companions of the couple, as well as members of a British family, were hurt by the mob.

Mrs. Haas apparently escaped injury. The American charge d'affaires in Cairo, is pursuing the matter vigorously with the Egyptian government.

Three Named Stockholders

Earl L. Hoover, John R. Weeks and Steven P. Bruske were named as principal stockholders today in the incorporation of the Hoover Instrument Service of 124 Grover street, the secretary of state in Columbus announced.

Weeks said the firm was a part-time organization engaged in the servicing of electrical radio instruments and radio temperature controls. He said plans were being made to manufacture special temperature measuring equipment for use in servicing electrical appliances.

Weeks said present plans did not include employment of personnel to assist in the operations.

The firm was incorporated with 250 shares of $100 par value common stock. Earl L. Hoover was named as agent in the transaction while Weldon and Huston, attorneys, filed the incorporation papers.

Hoover, Weeks, and George H. Keyser were named as incorporators.

Shiloh Hires Two Teachers

The Shiloh board of education last night hired two June graduates of Capital university in Columbus, to teach in the Shiloh high school. That completes the school staff.

County Superintendent of Schools Boyd Robinson said the two are Miss Alice Schillinger of Bucyrus and Herbert E. Lutz of Amanda, O.

Miss Schillinger will teach mathematics and biology. Lutz will instruct in physical education, history and social studies.

Irey was appointed to the internal revenue bureau's intelligence unit in 1919. Between then and his retirement in August, 1946, he earned a reputation as the scourge of income tax evaders.

'BUSMAN'S HOLIDAY'—

Joanne Solomon, member of the classified ad department of The News-Journal, took a "busman's holiday" when she attended the general conference of the Evangelical United Brethren church held in Syracuse, Ind., this past week. Joanne, returning yesterday from the convention as one of 10 Ohio youth delegates, said she acted as reporter on the "Daily Builders," convention newspaper published each day of the 10-day conference. Rev. Willard J. Shawk, pastor of the Main Street Evangelical UB church here, stopped with Mrs. Shawk for a day at the convention on his way to Naperville, Ill., where he will rest for the week with relatives.

Sewer Plan Delayed

Vacations Postpone Decision on Program

Action to place Mayor Roy W. Vaughn's $500,000 sewer bond plan on the November ballot seemed today to be halted at least temporarily by summer vacations.

Two members of the council's finance committee, Chairman Charles N. Shultz, and Clifford Knarr, were unavailable for comment since they were out of the city. The third member, Fred Miller sr., said he could offer no comment until the committee had met.

"All I know about the plan is what I read in the newspaper," he said.

A similar request to council by the mayor last year was turned down by the finance committee because councilmen considered it a "bad time to offer a bond issue."

Another member of council, Thomas R. Wright, told the News-Journal he was "inclined to be in favor of putting the issue on the ballot next November."

"I sure think we need a program like that," Wright said, "and a bond issue seems to be the only way to get the necessary money."

Vaughn, in his letter to council last Friday, outlined the developments of the past year pointing out that a storm sewer rehabilitation program cannot be financed from present operating funds.

Pastor's Son Wins Honor

James Melchert, 18, son of Rev. and Mrs. James C. Melchert, Woodland road, has won a scholarship to Princeton University, effective for the opening fall term.

Young Melchert is one of 10 Northern Ohio graduates awarded the scholarships, the first of 20 regional scholarships ever to be awarded by the university.

A graduate with the June class at Mansfield Senior high school Melchert plans to study for the ministry, in preparation for being a missionary.

Although Melchert was a student at Mansfield Senior high during his senior year only, he became active on the staff of the Hyphonerian. At New Bremen, where he spent most of his school days, he was active both in dramatics and music. Young Melchert is a pianist.

During the summer, he is working here with the Martin Steel Products company.

Modern Garage Planned

$25,000 Factory Permit Issued

Two sizable real estate transactions, involving plans for erection of a modern auto sales and service garage on Lexington avenue and a $25,000 factory building, were disclosed today.

The Swisher Cadillac company purchased two acres of land at 240 Lexington avenue from the Stuhldreher Floral company and said a modern, up-to-date garage and sales room would be built there.

Greenhouses which had stood as a landmark on the land for many years have been razed and a new glass nursery built on Cline avenue.

Purchase price of the land, formerly a part of the Stuhldreher nursery, was not made public. The deal was completed by Glen H. Braden, local real estate broker.

William Swisher, of the auto firm, said construction of a one-floor garage may start this fall.

"Present plans are for a completely modern building, complete with all the latest facilities," he said.

PLANS INCOMPLETE

Swisher said plans were incomplete as to what would be done with the remaining land. Part of the ground, in addition to that occupied by the building, would be retained by the auto company. He said he had received several offers to purchase the rest of the property.

The Cadillac company is now located at 166 Carpenter road.

Glenn W. Taylor and sons, a holding company engaged in building and renting activities, has taken out a permit to construct a $25,000 cement brick factory at 125 Crouse street.

Glenn Taylor said the structure would be rented to the Therm-O-Disc, Inc., which is presently located at 89 West Luther place.

Ditch Plan Postponed

County commissioners yesterday postponed decision on the Beer Plat ditch to next Monday. They said they wished to discuss the proposal with the prosecutor and officials of the county health department.

The petition asked for improvement of a natural water course into a county ditch. An alternate proposal calls for enclosure of the watercourse with 12-inch tile.

The ditch is east of the Beal road and north of Ashland road.

The first petition was rejected by commissioners April 7 because of excessive damage claims filed by K. D. Manner, owner of a farm on the Ashland road.

Manner contended water from the enclosed ditch would pollute his land. Manner appeared at yesterday's hearing, but said he was there only as an observer, commissioners said.

European Aid Expense High

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Foreign aid is costing Americans more this year than the total outlay for schools, police and fire protection and similar local services.

Paul G. Hoffman, who is directing the European recovery program, made this assertion today in a radio address to be beamed to Europe by the World Wide broadcasting foundation.

"No communist claim has been more ridiculous than the charge that we are dumping surpluses on Europe," he declared.

British Woman Charges Wallace Steals Her Stuff For Campaign

A WOMAN FROM ENGLAND (staying at a swank east side hotel) is threatening to sue Henry Wallace for "stealing her stuff" (world peace material, etc.) which she claims writing in a book published ten years ago. She alleges he is using it for part of his campaign messages. The lawyer consulted by her is believed to be William Richter of 150 Broadway.

The sentimental Britishers allowed the original manuscript of Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" to leave England in 1928, when it was auctioned off to an unsentimental American for £15,400.

Now in 1948 unsentimental Americans raise $50,000 by private subscription under the direction of the Library of Congress to give it back to the sentimental British as a gift from the—you know—"money-grubbing" Americans

In 1932 the Marquess of Lothian brought to this country the original manuscript of the "Olive Branch" petition and sold it at public auction for his personal benefit . . . This document was American property originally and sent to convey a message . . . It represents the final peace appeal to George III by the Continental Congress, and it is signed by 46 of our nation's founders. This document is generally regarded as second in historical value only to the original manuscript of the Declaration of Independence. It was purchased at the Lothian sale by a New York rare book dealer.

Yes, he still has it . . . Sure, it should be in the Library of Congress . . . On the Freedom Train, as a matter of fact . . . But, you see, the Library of Congress could never raise the money to buy it.

Cecile Sorel, the 75-year-old French actress, was discussing mortal sin with a priest. "Is it a mortal sin," she asked, "to look at myself in the mirror for half an hour each morning and say proudly, 'I am still beautiful'?"

"No," she was told, "that is not a sin, it is simply an error."

One of Broadway's classics actually happened. A young lady from a nearby Jersey town hastened into a Broadway casting agency and asked for a job in any show.

"What experience have you had?" she was asked.

"Oh, I haven't had any," she admitted. "I just had an awful fight with my husband and his family, so I decided to go on the stage and shame 'em!"

Laf-A-Day . . . .

"Let's pretend we're together; then those fresh guys will leave you alone."
